- I was responsible for creating high-quality websites every week. My role involved UX design and React development. I crafted engaging interfaces that prioritize optimal user journeys. My proficiency in React allowed me to navigate the complexities of development, ensuring visually striking and highly functional end products. I collaborated with a talented team to meet diverse client needs. Joining this agency was a dynamic and enriching experience that allowed me to refine my skills, contribute to impactful projects, and immerse myself in the ever-evolving field of web development.

NOTABLE PROJECTS

Employee Evaluation Platform

Frontend Developer

Oct 2023 -Feb 2024

Remote, Colombia

- I engaged in weekly progress meetings to ensure alignment with project milestones and team objectives. My responsibilities included designing intuitive user interfaces, integrating the frontend with backend services for seamless functionality, and collaborating closely with a fellow developer to maintain a unified development approach. Our joint effort was pivotal in delivering a cohesive product that performed flawlessly across all user interactions.

AI Platform

Frontend Developer

Jan 2024 -Apr 2024

Remote, Argentina

- I spearheaded the web application development, translating cutting-edge artificial intelligence capabilities into a seamless user experience. Weekly strategy sessions with the product team guided my design choices, ensuring that the web interface was both intuitive and powerful. I took charge of the entire frontend lifecycle, from concept to deployment, prioritizing responsive design and cross-browser compatibility. This role demanded a keen eye for detail and a deep understanding of user interaction patterns, enabling me to deliver a product that not only met but elevated the end-user experience.
